Statement of intent

John Keble Church of England Primary School is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare, both physical and emotional, of every pupil, inside and outside the school premises through a culture of vigilance.

This Policy sets out a clear and consistent framework for delivering this promise, in line with safeguarding legislation and statutory guidance.

It will be achieved by:

- Creating a culture of safe recruitment by adopting procedures that help deter, reject or identify people who might pose a risk to children.
- Educating pupils on how to keep safe and to recognise behaviour that is unacceptable. We teach them to recognise when they are at risk and how to get help when they need it.
- Identifying and making provision for any child that has been subject to abuse.
- Ensuring that members of the Governing Board, the Headteacher and staff members understand their responsibilities, under safeguarding legislation and statutory guidance, to be alert to the signs of child abuse and to refer concerns to the designated safeguarding lead.
- Ensuring that the Headteacher and any new staff members and volunteers are only appointed when all the appropriate checks have been satisfactorily completed.

The schools designated safeguarding lead is: Ms L Hawker, phone - 0208 965 5072
admin@jkeble.brent.sch.uk

In the absence of the designated safeguarding lead, child protection matters will be dealt with by: Mrs C Allard, Headteacher, phone 0208 965 5072 admin@jkeble.brent.sch.uk or [Ms Zohra El-Habti](mailto:Ms Zohra El-Habti), SENDCo, phone 02089655072. All senior leaders, as well as the school's senior learning mentor are also trained safeguarding leads and can deputise as needed.

The link governors for Child Protection and Safeguarding are Jean Lewis and Chris McGuinness.

1. Definition

For the purposes of this Policy, John Keble Church of England Primary School will define safeguarding and protecting the welfare of children as: protecting children from maltreatment; preventing impairment of children's health or development; ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care; and taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes.

2. Legal framework

This Policy will have consideration for and be in compliance with the following legislation and statutory guidance:

- Children Act 1989.
- Education Act 2002.
- Education (Health Standards) (England) Regulations 2003.
- Children’s Act 2004.
- Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006.
- Education (Pupil Referral Units) (Application of Enactment) (England) Regulations 2007.
- School Staffing (England) Regulations 2009.
- Education (Independent School Standards) (England) Regulations 2010.
- Equality Act 2010.
- Education (Non-Maintained Special Schools) (England) Regulations 2011.
- Protection of Freedoms Act 2012.
- Working Together to Safeguard Children 2018 (to be read together with What to do if you are worried a child is being abused 2015 – Advice for practitioners)
- Keeping Children Safe in Education 2019
- Prevent Duty Guidance - England and Wales. This covers the duty of schools and other providers, in section 29 Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015, to have due regard to the need to prevent people being drawn into terrorism.
- Multi-agency statutory guidance on female genital mutilation April 2016
- We will also have regard to DfE’s statutory guidance for schools about the employment of staff disqualified from childcare “Disqualification under the Childcare Act 2006”, which also contains information about ‘disqualification by association’.

3. Principles

- The school will ensure that the welfare of children is given paramount consideration when developing and delivering all school activity
- All children, regardless of age, gender, ability, culture, race, language, religion or sexual identity, have equal rights to protection
- All staff have an equal responsibility to act on any suspicion or disclosure that may suggest a child is at risk of harm in accordance with this guidance. See Section 1 “Keeping Children Safe in Education 2018”
- All pupils and staff involved in child protection issues will receive appropriate support from the senior management of the school who will follow this policy guidance in doing so
- Children are given the time, the space and the opportunity to be heard and listened to, and are encouraged to think about the adults they can talk to. (class teacher or TA, the Headteacher, the Deputy Headteacher, the Assistant Headteacher, Senior Learning mentor, office staff or a former teacher/TA – usually an adult they have built up a relationship with)
- The school places a great deal of importance on the wider environmental factors in a child’s life which may be a threat to their safety and/or welfare. This is known as Contextual Safeguarding.

4. Roles and responsibilities

The Governing Board has a duty to:

- Ensure that the school complies with its duties under the above child protection and safeguarding legislation.
- Ensure that the policies, procedures and training in the school are effective and comply with the law at all times.
Ensure that this Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy is available on the school website.
- Ensure that the school contributes to inter-agency working in line with the statutory guidance 'Working Together to Safeguard Children 2018'.
- Ensure that the school's safeguarding arrangements take into account the procedures and practice of the local authority as part of the inter-agency safeguarding procedures established by the Local Safeguarding Children Board (LSCB).
- Comply with its obligations under section 14B of the Children's Act 2004 to supply the LSCB with information to fulfil its functions.
- Ensure that a member of the Governing Board is nominated to liaise with the local authority and/or partner agencies on issues of child protection and in the event of allegations of abuse made against the Headteacher or other governor.
- Ensure that there is an effective Child Protection Policy in place together with a Staff Code of Conduct.
- Appoint a member of staff from the school leadership team (SLT) to the role of designated safeguarding lead as an explicit part of the role-holder's job description. There should always be cover for the designated safeguarding lead.
- Consider how children may be taught about safeguarding, including online, and through teaching and learning opportunities, as part of providing a broad and balanced curriculum.
- Prevent people who pose a risk of harm from working with children by adhering to statutory responsibilities to check staff who work with children, taking proportionate decisions on whether to ask for any checks beyond what is required and ensuring volunteers are appropriately supervised.
- Ensure that at least one person on any appointment panel has undertaken safer recruitment training.
- Ensure that there are procedures in place to handle allegations against members of staff or volunteers.
- Ensure that there are procedures in place to make a referral to the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) if a person in regulated activity has been dismissed or removed due to safeguarding concerns, or would have been had they not resigned. This is a legal duty.
- Ensure that there are procedures in place to handle allegations against other children.
- Ensure that the child's wishes or feelings are taken into account when determining what action to take and what services to provide to protect individual children through ensuring there are systems in place for children to express their views and give feedback.

- Appoint a designated teacher to promote the educational achievement of ‘looked after children’ and to ensure that this person has undergone appropriate training.
- Ensure that staff members have the skills, knowledge and understanding necessary to keeping ‘looked after children’ safe, particularly with regard to the child’s legal status, contact details and care arrangements.
- Put in place appropriate safeguarding responses to children who go missing from school, particularly on repeat occasions, to help identify any risk of abuse and neglect, including sexual abuse or exploitation and prevent the risks of their disappearance in future.
- Act to remedy any weaknesses in Child Protection immediately.

The Headteacher has a duty to:

- Safeguard children’s wellbeing and maintain public trust in the teaching profession as part of their professional duties.
- Ensure that the policies and procedures adopted by the Governing Board, particularly concerning referrals of cases of suspected abuse and neglect, are followed by staff members.

The Designated Safeguarding Lead, supported by the team has a duty to:

- Refer all cases of suspected abuse to the local authority - phone 0208 937 4300 - (the LSCB) Social Services, the local authority designated officer (LADO) for child protection concerns (as appropriate) and the police in cases where a crime has been committed.
  - Liaise with the Headteacher to inform him/her of safeguarding issues, especially ongoing enquiries under section 47 of the Children Act 1989 and police investigations.
  - Act as a source of support, advice and expertise to staff members on matters of safeguarding, and when deciding whether to make a referral, by liaising with relevant agencies.
  - Understand the assessment process for providing early help and intervention.
  - Have a working knowledge of how local authorities conduct a child protection case conference and a child protection review conference and be able to attend and contribute to these effectively when required to do so.
  - Ensure each member of staff has access to and understands the school’s Child Protection Policy and procedures, especially new and part-time staff members.
  - Be alert to the specific needs of children in need, including those with special educational needs and/or disabilities and young carers.
  - Be able to keep detailed, accurate and secure records of concerns and referrals.
  - Obtain access to resources and attend any relevant or refresher training courses.
  - Encourage among all staff members, a culture of listening to children and taking account of their wishes and feelings; in any measures the school may put in place to protect them.
  - Ensure that all staff read Section 1 of the document “Keeping Children Safe in education. 2018”

- Ensure the school's Child Protection Policy is reviewed annually and the procedures and implementation are updated and reviewed regularly, and work with the Governing Board regarding this duty.
- Ensure the school's Child Protection Policy is available publically and parents are aware of the fact that referrals regarding suspected abuse or neglect may be made and the role of the school in this.
- Link with the local LSCB to make sure that staff members are aware of the training opportunities available and the latest local policies on safeguarding.
- Ensure that the pupil's child protection file is copied when transferring to a new school. This will be sent recorded delivery with a tear off slip to be returned to John Keble in a self - addressed envelope. Where possible it will be transferred electronically using the CPOMs system.

Other staff members/volunteers/sports coaches should:

- Understand that safeguarding incidents could happen anywhere and staff should be alert to possible concerns in this school.
- Safeguard children's wellbeing and maintain public trust in the teaching profession as part of their professional duties. See Section 1 "Keeping Children safe in Education. 2018"
- Provide a safe environment in which children can learn.
- Identify children who may be in need of extra help or who are suffering, or likely to suffer, significant harm.
- Take appropriate action, record and report any disclosures or concerns to the designated safeguarding lead and work with other services as required.
- Support social workers to take decisions about individual children, in collaboration with the designated safeguarding lead.
- All staff may raise concerns directly with Children's Social Care services.
- Report any concerns that they may have about the actions of any member staff or volunteer to the designated safeguarding lead or the Headteacher.
- Report any disclosures without asking leading questions and without agreeing to keep the disclosure secret
- Keep themselves and children safe by working in a public place in the school or with other staff members. They should not work 1:1 with a child unless visible to others.
- Take care when taking children swimming and ensure that 2 staff members supervise children changing and where cubicles are available and safe to use, use them.
- Ensure children do not have access to their own digital devices whilst on the school site (e.g. phones or internet-enabled watches).
- Remember that 'relationships and associations' they have in school and outside (including online), may have an implication for the safeguarding of children in the school. Where this is the case, the member of staff must speak to the head-teacher or DSL.

The Parent Liaison Officer should:

- Monitor pupil absence closely, considering poor attendance and children who are missing to be safeguarding risks and reporting these as such.
- Ensure at least two emergency contacts are collected for each child and that an up-to-date record of these is maintained

5. Safer recruitment

John Keble is committed to the process of creating a culture of safe recruitment and, as part of that, adopt recruitment procedures that help deter, reject or identify people who might abuse children. An enhanced DBS check with barred list information will be undertaken for all staff members engaged in regulated activity. A person will be considered to be in 'regulated activity' if, as a result of their work, they:

- Will be responsible on a daily basis, for the care or supervision of children.
- Regularly work in the school at times when children are on school premises.

The Headteacher will check the suitability of prospective employees by:

- Verifying the candidate's identity, preferably from current photographic ID and proof of address except where, for exceptional reasons, none is available.
- Obtaining a certificate for an enhanced DBS check with barred list information where the person who will be engaged in regulated activity.
- Obtaining a separate barred list check if an individual will start work in regulated activity before the DBS certificate is available.
- Checking that a candidate to be employed as a teacher is not subject to a prohibition order issued by the Secretary of State for Education, using the Employer Access Online service.
- Verifying the person's right to work in the UK. If there is uncertainty about whether an individual needs permission to work in the UK, then the school will follow the advice set out on the GOV.UK website.
- If the person has lived or worked outside the UK, making any further checks that the school considers appropriate.
- Verifying professional experience and qualifications, as appropriate.

A DBS certificate will be obtained from the candidate before or as soon as practicable after appointment and before taking up the post.

An online update check may be undertaken through the DBS Update Service if the applicant has subscribed to it and gives their permission.

An enhanced DBS check with barred list information may be requested if there are concerns about an applicant even if he/she has worked in regulated activity in the three months prior to appointment.

An enhanced DBS check will be requested for all governors who participate in regulated activity and may be requested for anyone working in the school that is not in regulated activity, but not with a barred list check.

Written information about previous employment history will be obtained from the candidate and the appropriate checks undertaken to ensure information is not contradictory or incomplete.

References will be obtained directly from the referee and scrutinised with all concerns satisfactorily resolved, prior to confirmation of employment.

References will be sought on all short-listed candidates, including internal ones, before interview and checked on receipt to ensure that all specific questions were answered satisfactorily.

Information about past disciplinary action or allegations will be considered carefully when assessing an applicant's suitability for a post.

Written notification will be obtained from any agency or third-party organisation contracted by the school, confirming that the organisation has carried out the same checks on an individual who will be working at the school that the school would otherwise perform.

Checks will be conducted to ensure that the contractor presenting themselves for work is the same person on whom the checks have been made.

An enhanced DBS certificate and barred list check must be obtained for all trainee teachers.

The school will refer to the DBS anyone who has harmed a child, poses a risk of harm to a child, or if there is reason to believe the member of staff has committed an offence and has been removed from working in regulated activity.

A supervised volunteer who regularly teaches or looks after children is not in regulated activity.

No volunteer will be left unsupervised or allowed to work in regulated activity until the necessary checks have been obtained.

An enhanced DBS certificate with barred list check will be obtained for all new volunteers in regulated activity that will regularly teach or look after children on an unsupervised basis or provide personal care on a one-off basis.

An enhanced DBS certificate will be obtained for new volunteers not in regulated activity.

The school will consider obtaining an enhanced DBS certificate with barred list check for existing volunteers that provide pastoral care.

A risk assessment will be undertaken for volunteers not engaged in regulated activity when deciding whether to seek an enhanced DBS check.

Governors that are volunteers shall be treated on the same basis as other volunteers.

The school will ensure that any contractor or employee of the contractor, working at the school has been subject to the appropriate level of DBS check.

Contractors without a DBS check will be supervised if they have contact with children.

The identity of the contractor will be checked upon their arrival at the school.

The school will ensure that policies and procedures are in place to protect children from harm during work experience placements.

The school will set up and maintain a single central record of whether or not the following checks have been carried out or certificates obtained from members of the Governing Board and all staff members, volunteers and other individuals working with children in school:

- An identity check.
- A barred list check.
- An enhanced DBS check.
- A prohibition from teaching check.
- Further checks on people living or working outside the UK.
- A check of professional qualifications.
- A check to establish the person's right to work in the UK.
- Proof of address

DBS certificates will be securely destroyed as soon as practicable, but not retained for longer than six months from receipt, as outlined in the Data Protection Act 1998.

A copy of the other documents used to verify the successful candidate's identity, right to work and required qualifications will be kept for the personnel file.

The school has a legal duty to refer to the DBS anyone who has harmed, or poses a risk of harm, to a child and who has been removed from working (paid or unpaid) in regulated activity, or would have been removed had they not left. The DBS will consider whether to bar the person. Referrals will be made as soon as possible after the resignation or removal of the individual.

6. Disqualification by association

This section relates to primary schools with nurseries and/or reception classes and other schools where the school provides after school provision for children under the age of 8. The school will implement the Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2009 by ensuring that staff who are disqualified by association because they live in the same household as a person disqualified under the Childcare Act 2006 (as amended 2018) are not able to work in an early years setting within the school. To do this the school will follow the statutory guidance "Disqualification under the Childcare Act 2006 (as amended 2018)".

7. Looked after children (LAC)

The Designated Lead is responsible for Looked After pupils. We keep a list of pupils who are looked after by the local authority. In the light of the research that shows that these pupils fare less well at schools than their peers and to narrow this gap, we monitor their progress and wellbeing carefully by:

- Being involved in and following the guidance set out in the pupil's personal education plan (PEP)
- Designated Safeguarding Lead – oversees the general well-being and progress of all CLA children.
- offering in school support such as anger management, play therapy or social skills training as appropriate
- targeting pupil premium specifically to support children in care.
- attending any liaison or review meetings held on their behalf, including speaking for them or acting as their advocate at such meetings should they request it, and keeping in touch with social workers and/or carers
- monitoring their attendance carefully and reporting any unexplained or repeated absence to social care and the Educational Welfare service
- monitoring their academic progress carefully to try to ensure they are making good progress in school making full use of “ tracker” systems
- informing relevant staff members that they are on the looked after register without breaching confidentiality so he/she knows to register any concerns speedily to the safeguarding team
- being careful not to accept any under achievement just because the child is ‘looked after’
- looking out for difficulties with home learning or resources that may be a result of their being in care and liaising with carers to organise and manage their work and by providing the resources needed
- enlisting the support of and liaising with other agencies as appropriate
- checking that they have access to all elements of school life, including visits and other activities, and by giving these pupils the opportunities to take part in those self-esteem projects/residential organised by the school as and when appropriate.

If we know that a child is being privately fostered we will inform the local authority as it is a mandatory duty to do so.

8. Female Genital Mutilation (FGM)

Female genital mutilation (sometimes referred to as female circumcision) refers to procedures that intentionally alter or cause injury to the female genital organs for non-medical reasons. It has no health benefits and harms girls and women in many ways. It involves removing and damaging healthy and normal female genital tissue, and hence interferes with the natural function of girls' and women's bodies. FGM causes severe pain and has several immediate and long-term health consequences, including difficulties in childbirth also causing dangers to the child. It is practised by families for a variety of complex reasons but often in the belief that it is beneficial for the girl or woman. FGM is practised in 28 African countries as well as in parts of the Middle East and Asia. The practice is illegal in the UK. All school staff must be alert to the possibility of a girl being at risk of FGM, or already having suffered FGM. If staff are worried about someone who is at risk of FGM or has had FGM, they must share this information with social care or the police.

There are a range of potential indicators that a child may be at risk of FGM, whilst individually they may not indicate risk, if two or more indicators are present this could signal a risk to the child.

Victims of FGM are most likely to come from communities that are known to practise FGM. It is important to note that the child may not yet be aware of the practice or that it may be conducted on them, so it is important for staff to be sensitive when approaching the subject. The following indicators are taken from government guidelines regarding FGM:

Indicators that may show heightened risk of FGM include:

- The position of the family and their level of integration into UK society.
- Any girl with a mother or sister who has been subjected to FGM.
- Any girl withdrawn from Personal, Social and Health Education (PSHE).

Indicators that may show FGM could take place soon include:

- when a female family elder is visiting from a country of origin.
- A girl may confide that she is to have a 'special procedure' or a ceremony to 'become a woman'.
- A girl may request help from a teacher if she is aware or suspects that she is at immediate risk.
- A girl may talk about a long holiday to her country of origin or another country where the practice is prevalent.

It is important that staff look for signs that FGM has already taken place so that help can be offered, enquiries can be made to protect others and so criminal investigations can begin. Indicators that FGM may have already taken place include:

- A girl may have difficulty walking, sitting or standing.
- A girl may spend longer than normal in the bathroom or toilet.
- A girl may spend long periods of time away from a classroom during the day with bladder or menstrual problems.
- There may be prolonged or repeated absences from school followed by withdrawal or depression.
- A girl may be particularly reluctant to undergo normal medical examinations.
- A girl may ask for help, but may not be explicit about the problem due to embarrassment or fear.

From October 2015 there is a statutory duty on schools to report FGM to the police.

9. Forced marriage

A forced marriage is where one or both people do not (or in cases of people with learning disabilities, cannot) consent to the marriage and pressure or abuse is used.

Signs include:

- Absence and persistent absence
  - Request for extended leave of absence and failure to return from visits to country of origin
  - Fear about forthcoming school holidays
  - Surveillance by siblings or cousins at school
  - Decline in behaviour, engagement, performance or punctuality
  - Not being allowed to attend extra-curricular activities
- Being prevented from going on to further/higher education

Staff must discuss any concerns around possible cases of forced marriage with the DSL.

There may be occasions when immediate emergency action is necessary to prevent a child from being forced to marry or abducted, for instance, police protection or eergency protection orders.

If there is a risk of immediate serious harm to a child, a referral should be made to children's social care immediately.

10. Child sexual exploitation (CSE)

Child sexual exploitation is a form of child sexual abuse. It occurs where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child or young person under the age of 18 into sexual activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator. The victim may have been sexually exploited even if the sexual activity appears consensual. Child sexual exploitation does not always involve physical contact; it can also occur through the use of technology.

CSE involves exploitative situations, contexts and relationships where a child may receive something, such as food, gifts or in some cases simply affection, as a result of engaging in sexual activities.

CSE can take many forms but the perpetrator will always hold some kind of power over the victim. It is important to note that some young people who are being sexually abused do not exhibit any external signs of abuse.

The school has adopted the following procedure for handling cases of CSE, as outlined by the DfE. The procedure is as follows:

Step one – Identifying cases

School staff are aware of and look for the key indicators of CSE, these are as follows:

- Going missing for periods of time or regularly going home late.
- Regularly missing school.
- Appearing with unexplained gifts and new possessions.
- Associating with other young people involved in exploitation.
- Having older boyfriends or girlfriends.
- Undergoing mood swings or drastic changes in emotional wellbeing.
- Displaying inappropriate sexualised behaviour.

Step two – Referring cases

Where CSE, or the risk of it, is suspected, staff will discuss the case with the dedicated member of staff for child protection. If after discussion there remains concerns, local safeguarding procedures will be triggered, including referral to a local authority.

Step three – Support

The local authority and all other necessary authorities will then handle the matter to conclusion. The school will cooperate as needed and will provide support for the child throughout the process.

<https://www.nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/child-abuse-and-neglect/child-sexual-exploitation/>

There is no clear boundary between incidents that should be regarded as abusive and incidents that are more properly dealt with as bullying, sexual experimentation etc. This is a matter of professional judgement.

11. Peer on peer abuse

If one child or group of children causes harm to another, this may be abuse/bullying if:

- There is a large difference in power (for example age, size, ability, development) between the young people concerned; or
- The perpetrator has repeatedly tried to harm one or more other children; or
- There are concerns about the intention of the alleged perpetrator.

If the evidence suggests that there was an intention to cause harm to the victim, this should be regarded as abusive whether or not severe harm was actually caused.

Risks

Children are vulnerable to abuse by their peers. Such abuse should be taken as seriously as abuse by adults and should be subject to the same child protection procedures.

Staff should not dismiss abusive behaviour as normal between children and should not develop high thresholds before taking action.

Staff should be aware of the potential uses of information technology for bullying and abusive behaviour between young people.

Staff should be aware of the added vulnerability of children who have SEN or disabilities or who are Looked After, including the risk that they may respond to this by abusing younger or weaker children.

The alleged perpetrator is likely to have considerable unmet needs as well as posing a significant risk of harm to other children. Evidence suggests that such children may have suffered considerable disruption in their lives, may have witnessed or been subjected to physical or sexual abuse, may have problems in their educational development. They may therefore be suffering, or at risk of suffering, significant harm and in need of protection. Any long-term plan to reduce the risk posed by the alleged perpetrator must address their needs.

Protection and Action to be taken

It is not enough to respond to incidents as they arise: the school strives to create an environment that actively discourages abuse and challenges the attitudes which underlie it. Refer also to the Behaviour and Anti Bullying Policy.

Any staff member who feels that a child has acted in a bullying/abusive manner towards another child should notify the DSL or Senior Learning Mentor who will meet to support the victim and to investigate and address the needs of the perpetrator.

In order to give priority to them, issues relating to the safety of victims and potential victims must be discussed first and completely separately from any issues relating to the needs of the alleged perpetrator. This will usually require separate meetings.

12. Preventing radicalisation

The Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015 places a duty on specified authorities, including local authorities and childcare, education and other children's services providers, in the exercise of their functions, to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism ("the Prevent duty"). Young people can be exposed to extremist influences or prejudiced views, in particular those via the internet and other social media. Schools can help to protect children from extremist and violent views in the same ways that they help to safeguard children from drugs, gang violence or alcohol.

In order to keep children safe from radicalisation we will

- Teach a broad and balanced curriculum
- Promote fundamental British values
- Assess the risk of pupils being drawn into terrorism and support for extremism
- Train key staff to give them the knowledge and confidence to identify children at risk
- Protect children from terrorist and extremist material when accessing the internet at school
- Ensure robust safeguarding policies are in place to identify children at risk, intervene and refer pupils as appropriate
- Actively work with local organisations to identify children at risk of joining gangs and intervene early

13. Honour Based Violence

Honor Based Violence (HBV) Honour based violence (HBV) can be described as a collection of practices, which are used to control behaviour within families or other social groups to protect perceived cultural and religious beliefs and/or honour. Such violence can occur when perpetrators perceive that a relative has shamed the family and/or community by breaking their honour code. It is a violation of human rights and may be a form of domestic and/or sexual violence. There is no, and cannot be, honour or justification for abusing the human rights of others.

14. Homelessness

Being homeless or being at risk of becoming homeless presents a real risk to a child's welfare. The designated safeguarding leads (and deputies) at John Keble are aware of contact details and referral routes in to the Local Housing Authority so they can raise/progress concerns at the earliest opportunity. Referrals may also be made to multi-agency safeguarding hub.

15. County Lines Criminal Activity

Criminal exploitation of children is a geographically widespread form of harm that is a typical feature of county lines criminal activity: drug networks or gangs groom and exploit children and young people to carry drugs and money from urban areas to suburban and rural areas, market and seaside towns. We refer where needed to the following guidance: Criminal Exploitation of children and vulnerable adults: county lines guidance.

16. Cuckooing

Cuckooing is a form of crime in which drug dealers / users take over the home of a vulnerable person in order to use it as a base for drug dealing. Victims of 'cuckooing' are often drug users but can include older people, those suffering from mental or physical health problems, female sex workers, single parents and those living in poverty. Once they gain control, gangs move in with the risk of domestic abuse, sexual exploitation and violence. Children as well as adults are used as drug runners. The effects of 'cuckooing' can impact greatly on a parents ability to care for, and protect their child and the child is placed at increased risk because of fear, gang and drug related activities and paraphernalia.

It's common for gangs to have access to several addresses. They move quickly between vulnerable people's homes for just a few hours, a couple of days or sometimes longer. This helps gangs evade detection. Some vulnerable adults may be forced to leave their homes, making themselves homeless and leaving the gangs free to sell drugs in their absence.

Signs that 'cuckooing' may be going on at a property include:

An increase in people entering and leaving

An increase in cars or bikes outside

An increase in anti-social behaviour

Increasing litter outside

Signs of drugs use

Non engagement with health and social visitors / professionals and with education.

17. Serious Violence

All staff should be aware of the signs that indicate a child is at risk of, or involved with serious violence, this includes: absence from school, change of friendship group, unexplained injuries, self-harm, unexplained gifts or possessions. Staff should also be aware of relevant guidance: Preventing youth violence and gang involvement.

18. Pupils with family members in prison and pupils required to give evidence in court

Children with a family member in prison are at risk of poor outcomes including poverty, stigma, isolation and poor mental health. The National Information Centre on Children of Offenders NICCO (see KCSIE 2019) provides information designed to support professionals working with offenders and their children, to help mitigate negative consequences for those children.

A child may at some point experience the court system for a number of different reasons. This may include being a witness to a crime or it could be as a result of child care arrangement being made in the Family Court. Whatever the reasons it is important the child is supported through this process.

19. Alternative provision

Where a school places a pupil with an alternative provision provider, the school continues to be responsible for the safeguarding of that pupil, and should be satisfied that the provider meets the needs of the pupil. We would seek to obtain written confirmation from the alternative provider that appropriate safeguarding checks have been carried out on individuals working at the establishment, i.e. those checks that we would otherwise perform in respect of our own staff.

20. Clubs and extra-curricular activities

Our duty with regards to safeguarding extends beyond the school day and includes all clubs and extra-curricular activities, including breakfast club, after-school clubs, sports competitions and other events outside of school, trips and residential visits.

21. Training

Staff members will be made aware of systems and policies in the school which support safeguarding, during their inductions.

The designated safeguarding lead should undergo 'new to role' training and updated child protection training every two years, including multi-agency training.

The Headteacher and all staff members should undergo child protection training which is updated regularly, in line with LSCB advice. Staff also receive regular updates; safeguarding is a standing agenda item at weekly INSET meetings and TA meetings.

All volunteers, trainees or temporary staff are inducted by the DSL and complete safeguarding training before they begin work.

22. Curriculum

Our curriculum is an important part of our provision and one of the key ways in which we teach children how to keep themselves safe. An important part of this is our PSHE scheme of work which has been designed to meet the needs of our specific cohort. All children are taught from a progressive and broad scheme of work at least once per fortnight around three key themes per year group (for example “Rights and Responsibilities” or “Peer Pressure”). Children are also taught Digital Safety as an integrated part of computing lessons. Sex and Relationships Education is valued and fully embedded in the school’s curriculum.

23. Vulnerable groups

We are aware that particular groups of children may be more vulnerable and at greater risk, particularly from bullying. These groups may include for example children with special educational needs or disabilities, those with medical conditions, looked after children or those who live in poverty. We work hard to ensure that all children are heard and monitored closely.

24. Reporting and record keeping

Staff members should raise any concerns that they may have about a child with the school’s designated safeguarding lead, including situations of abuse which may involve other staff members.

The safeguarding lead will decide whether to make a referral to children’s social care, but any staff member can refer their concerns to children’s social care directly.

The referrer shall press children’s social care for re-consideration if the decision was taken not to undergo an early help assessment and the child’s situation does not improve.

The early help assessment should be undertaken by a lead professional who could be a teacher, special educational needs co-ordinator (SENCO), general practitioner (GP), family support worker, and/or health visitor.

An inter-agency assessment will be undertaken where a child and family could benefit from co-ordinated support from more than one agency. These assessments should identify what help the child and family require in preventing needs escalating to a point where intervention would be needed.

A child will immediately be referred to children’s social care if there is a risk of immediate serious harm to a child.

Staff report any concerns using CPOMs (the school’s online safeguarding and child protection monitoring system). Concerns are then viewed by relevant staff and access to safeguarding logs is for members of the safeguarding team only. Any on-going issues for children are also recorded on CPOMs. Where there are paper records (for example handwritten notes, body maps or letters) these will be scanned and added to a child’s CPOMs log.

As noted in Keeping Children Safe in Education (2018), paragraph 75: ‘The Data Protection Act 2018 and GDPR do not prevent, or limit, the sharing of information for the purposes of keeping children safe.’ It is also noted in paragraph 77 that ‘This includes allowing practitioners to share information without consent.’

25. Related Policies

This policy is consistent with all other policies adopted by the Governors and should in particular be read in conjunction with the following policies relevant to the safety and welfare of children.

In the case of allegations against staff, please refer to the whistle blowing policy and our allegations against staff policy.

For information regarding mobile phones and camera safety, please refer to staff induction notes, school handbook and code of conduct, Digital Safety policy and Acceptable Use Policies.

Types of child abuse and neglect

Abuse: a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, or by failing to act to prevent harm. They may be abused by an adult or adults or another child or children.

Physical abuse: a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

<https://www.nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/child-abuse-and-neglect/physical-abuse/>

Emotional abuse: the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone. Domestic violence is also considered to be emotional abuse and needs to be reported in order to protect the child.

<https://www.nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/child-abuse-and-neglect/emotional-abuse/>

Sexual abuse: involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

<https://www.nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/child-abuse-and-neglect/child-sexual-abuse/>

Neglect: the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers); or ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

If you're worried that a child is being abused, watch out for any unusual behaviour.

- withdrawn
- suddenly behaves differently
- anxious, tearful
- clingy
- depressed
- aggressive
- problems sleeping
- eating disorders
- wets the bed
- soils clothes
- takes risks

- misses school
- changes in eating habits
- obsessive behaviour
- nightmares
- self-harm

Appendix 2

When a child tells me about abuse s/he has suffered, what must I remember?

- a. Stay calm
- b. Do not transmit shock, anger or embarrassment
- c. Reassure the child. Tell her/him you are pleased that s/he is speaking to you
- d. Never enter into a pact of secrecy with the child. Assure her/him that you will try to help but let the child know that you will have to tell other people in order to do this State who this will be and why
- e. Tell her/him that you believe them. Children very rarely lie about abuse; but s/he may have tried to tell others and not been heard or believed.
- f. Tell the child that it is not her/his fault
- g. Encourage the child to talk but do not ask "leading questions" or press for information
- h. Check that you have understood correctly what the child is trying to tell you.
- i. Praise the child for telling you. Communicate that s/he has a right to be safe and protected
- j. It is inappropriate to make any comments about the alleged offender.
- k. Be aware that the child may retract what s/he has told you. It is essential to record all you have heard
- l. At the end of the conversation, tell the child again who you are going to tell and why that person or those people need to know

As soon as you can afterwards, make a detailed record of the conversation on CPOMs using the child's own language. Include any questions you may have asked.
